West Virginia Teachers Win!

After nine days on strike across all 55 counties in the state, West Virginia Teachers have won higher wages and better benefits, including healthcare insurance. The WV Governor signed the deal into law this afternoon. As United Mine Workers of America's Cecil Roberts said, "When workers stand united, they can never be defeated."

"The awesome solidarity of West Virginia educators – with schools shut down in all 55 counties – has inspired the entire Labor Movement," said AFA International President Sara Nelson.

West Virginia Teachers have taught a lesson to all of us about the power of solidarity. We are Stronger Together, Better Together!

AFA Calls on FAA to Respond to Opioid Overdoses Onboard
Opioid overdose deaths continue to increase in the United States, with six out of ten drug overdose deaths now involving an opioid. Passenger medical emergencies have and will continue to include opioid overdoses. Unfortunately, passengers may die from opioid overdoses on airplanes from the sheer lack of access to naloxone. Therefore, AFA urged the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) to utilize its existing authority immediately to issue regulations requiring that the Emergency Medical Kits (EMK) carried by passenger airlines include naloxone nasal spray to treat opioid overdoses.
